DENBY, SECRETARY OF NAVY, RESIGNED HIS POSITION TO-DAY

WEST PENN COMPANY SHOWS "WHITE WAY"

First Demonstration of New System Is Given Saturday Night Between Fourth And Fifth Streets In Fallowfield Avenue

THE PEOPLE ARE SATISFIED

Demonstration Is Pleasing, the Only Suggestion Or Criticism Being That the Lights Are Too High — Another Demonstration Tomorrow Night

Saturday night the West Penn Power Company gave its first demonstration of the White Way system in Charleroi, the street selected being the block located in Fallowfield evenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets of that thoroughfare. The lights have been placed in zigzag style for the approval of council and the borough citizenry. Tomorrow evening another type of lights will be demonstrated between Fifth and Sixth streets in the same avenue. It was the concensus of opinion that the lights as shown are a success, and they will remain as placed pending orders from the borough council. The only criticism or suggestion that we have heard made relative to the lights as placed are that they are too high; and in conversation with J. Bryant Tussing, president of Charleroi council, this morning, the gentleman voiced the opinion that they should be at least two feet lower.

Another demonstration will be given in Fallowfield avenue tomorrow evening, this time between Fifth and Sixth streets, and it is probable that, liken unto Saturday night, the demonstration will attract a large concourse of the citizenry of the borough, and many from outside of town who will be curious and anxious to see just what "The White Way System Is."

President Tussing of Charleroi council said this morning that with the permanent installation of the lights the poles will be painted.

There will be one block of one type of lights and another block of another, and the one that meets with approval will be installed from Third street to Seventh street in Fallowfield avenue, and from Third street to Eighth street in McKean avenue, within a short time. There were formerly 254 telephone poles from First street to the end of the borough line in Fallowfield avenue, but only 120 poles will be supplanted, totaling about 10 poles to the block. The West Penn Power company, the Bell Telephone company and the West Side Electric Street Railways company will have use of the poles.

It is the prerogative and province of council to select any of the various lighting systems promulgated by the West Penn Power company, a different system to be shown tomorrow night. These systems will remain in vogue until the matter is permanently decided upon by council.

HE QUITS POST UNDER HOT FIRE

Washington, Feb. 18.—(United Press). — Secretary of the Navy Denby today resigned from the Cabinet. President Coolidge accepted the resignation.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt also offered his resignation, and the President will decide within a short time whether to accept it. Formal announcement of Denby's resignation will be made at 4 p. m.

He resigned on the ground that his usefulness as a Cabinet member had been impaired through his position that he was guiltless of any blame in connection with the leasing of the Teapot Dome and other naval oil reserves.

Denby's formal written resignation was placed in the President's hands shortly before noon after a telephone conversation earlier, in which Denby communicated his resignation to the President.

The President, just after noon sent his personal secretary, Theodore Clark, to Denby's office and it was believed Clark carried Mr, Coolidge's acceptance of the resignation.

Denby, at that time, was at his home, where he went about 10:30, after refusing to report whether he had resigned or not.

Denby's resignation, it was made clear, was the result of his own decision, and was not asked for by the President.

TWO BIG HEADS RESIGN TODAY

Berlin, Feb. 18.—(United Press).—Dictator Von Kahr and General Lossow, heads of the Bavarian government, resigned today.

The dictatorship powers held by the former were returned to the Bavarian state cabinet.

Retirement of Von Kahr lightens the Marx government's ever-recurrent problem of adjusting controversies with Bavaria.

WEATHER VAGARIES IN THE BOROUGH

The Icy Condition of the Sidewalks And Streets Yesterday Contribute to Accidents. But Fortunately None Seriously Injured

TWO YOUNG LADIES HURT

Miss Stella Carter And Miss Frances Vogel Rendered Unconscious In Falls—People Are Precluded From Traversing Streets

In this community the vagaries of the weather were demonstrated yesterday in a combined sleet and rain drizzle. During the past week it has alternated, rain and snow, and Saturday night and early yesterday morning, with freezing temperature, the condition of the sidewalks and streets were such that a number of accidents, pedestrians and vehicular, resulted. People attending church, both young and middle-aged, had trouble in "getting there," while the old folk, in the majority of cases, were precluded from attending divine services in any instance. They could neither walk to church, nor could they be taken by automobile or other moving contrivance, owing to the icy condition of the streets. Even this morning, it is said, that vehicular traffic is impeded, if not entirely prohibited, in the hill districts of the borough. A record of accidents, fortunately there was none seriously hurt, insofar as the Mail has been enabled to glean, are as follows:

Miss Stella Carter, aged 14, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Manon of 402 Washington avenue and Fourth street, was rendered unconscious when returning home from Sunday school at 11 o'clock. Just as she stepped out of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, she slipped and fell on the sidewalk, her head striking the cement walk forcefully. Miss Carter was taken to the office of Dr. J. K. Smith in an unconscious condition, where she remained for several hours before being taken to her home. Miss Carter's injuries were slight, however, though extremely painful.

About 9:30 o'clock Miss Frances Vogle, aged about 19 years, of Second street, between Meadow and Crest avenues, slipped on the street in Washington avenue, and received a blow on the head which rendered her unconscious for a short time. She was

RED HOT PICK IS USED ON A MINER

Charged with driving a red-hot miner's pick through a man's neck, Roger Parnaby, a blacksmith at Bulger, was on trial before Judge Erwin Cummins Saturday on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. The trouble occurred on January 10, 1924. On that date Louis Baresh took some picks to Parnaby to have them sharpened. Returning for them later he found that they were not ready. An argument arose between the two men, and Louis, who could not understand English very well, went out to his son, Andy, on the outside of the shop.

He sent the young man in after the picks, and it is alleged that Parnaby seized a hot pick from the forge and struck Andy on the neck. Th point passed entirely through the back of the neck, inflicting a very painful wound. The case went to the jury at adjournment of court and a sealed verdict was to be returned this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

In the case of Henry Adams, of Canonsburg, charged with the larceny of an overcoat from the Morris Department store of that place, the defense demurred to the testimony of the commonwealth. This took the matter from the hands of the jury and placed it directly before the court. Judge James I. Brownson, before whom the case was called, found that the evidence justified a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to the workhouse for a term of from four to eight months.

A plea of guilty to pointing firearms and assault with firearms was entered by Robert Lovely, colored, of McDonald, before Judge Cummins Saturday. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $25 and to five months in jail, to date from the time of his commitment, two months ago.

Louis Verdonck, of Midway, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery committed on Frank Legrand, at Midway. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $25 and to spend 30 days in jail.

The opening felicity will be the high class musical entertainment to be given at the High School Auditorium by the Charleroi Choral Society under the direction of Chester C. Humphreys. The chorus is composed of singers selected from Charleroi, Monessen, Donora, Belle Vernon, Bentleyville, Allenport and Dunlevy. It has a membership of fifty people, and on account of the membership being only by invitation, and not by application, the various parts are kept in balance.

Master Jack Hoyes, boy soprano soloist of Calvary Church, will sing a group of songs. Master George Matthews, formerly of great popularity in Great Britain, will also sing a group of songs There will be chorus numbers, quartet numbers, duets and solos.

Prospects augur for a large attendance.

PRISONER KILLS JUDGE; THEN SELF

Lincoln, Nebraska, Feb. 18.—(United Press).—District Judge W. M. Worning was shot and killed today by Wallace G. Wallick, who a moment later, killed himself with the same revolver. Wallick also shot at Clifford F. Rein, attorney for Mrs. Wallick, whose suit for non-support was being heard.

When court convened for the day, Wallick appeared without legal advisors. "I don't want a lawyer, I am ready," Wallick said when Judge Worning questioned him and as he completed the last word, Wallick jerked a revolver from his pocket and fired at the judge. The bullet struck his body and he fell forward on his high desk.

As court attendants ran to seize him, Wallick calmly turned his fire on Attorney Rein, but the shot went wild. Wheeling about and facing the chairs where his wife and son were seated, he turned the revolver on himself and fired.

He died within a few minutes. Physicians were called to aid the judge, but he died ten minutes after the shooting.

Judge Worning has been on the district court bench for six years and recently filed for renomination.

SHOW MANAGER SAVES BOY'S LIFE

Frank Mastrianna, manager of the Majestic theatre, saved a boy, about the age of 13, when the lad, coasting down the Fifth Street hill was in danger of colliding with an approaching car. The show man grabbed the boy by the collar and pulled him from the sled out of danger. The boy rewarded Mr. Mastrianna in anathema.

The time of the rescue was effected at 1:45 o'clock p. m. Mr. Mastrianna was standing on the corner of Fifth street and Fallowfield avenue on the Bank of Charleroi side of the street, and seeing the lads' danger, the manager of the local theatre effected the role of rescuer.

The name of the boy was not ascertained.

CABINET MEETS TO DISCUSS STRIKE

London, Feb. 18.—(U. P.)—The Labor cabinet met this afternoon to discuss the nation-wide dock strike of 110,000 workers, which has tied up shipping and paralyzed transportation at every port in the United Kingdom with the exception of London.

It was understood the cabinet undoubtedly would approve immediate intervention by Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

REAL TREAT FOR THE FIGHT FANS OF TUBE CITY

The fistic fans of McKeesport and vicinity are in for a real treat next Thursday evening, when the Majestic Club stages its weekly show in the Palisades rink, featuring Cuddy DeMarco of Charleroi and Dick Conlin of Altoona in the main event of 10 rounds. The rivalry between these boys is the real thing. It almost prevented their meeting at all, for neither was willing at first to make any concessions. Conlin held out for a weight figure of 137 pounds at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Cuddy demanded 135 pounds at that hour and finally won his point.

This squabble increased the bitterness and Conlin declares he is going to make DeMarco wish he hadn't agreed on weight at all. Dick is determined to defeat DeMarco and there are many who think he can do so.

Voters Should Assist Candidates By Signing The Nominating Petitions

Candidates seeking places on the ballot at the primary election, April 22, are required to file petitions with the secretary of the commonwealth asking that their names be placed on the ballot. The procuring of these signatures is a considerable task as there are many offices to be filled.

Petitions are in circulation for auditor general, state treasurer, seven delegates and seven alternates at large to the Republican national convention, two district delegates, and two alternates to the convention, representative in congress, candidates for state legislature and numerous party officers in the precincts.

A candidate is required to have a petition signed with the proper number of names. The signing of a petition does not obligate the signer to vote for the person whose petition he signs, but simply enables that person to meet the requirements of the law in filing his petition. Voters can aid candidates by cheerfully signing their petitions in order that they may file the names required by law.

CHURCH IS TO ELECT A PASTOR

This evening the Washington Avenue Presbyterians will congregate at the church edifice, Fifth street and Washington avenue, the ostensible purpose being to elect a pastor to succeed the Rev. John R. Burson, whose resignation was effective as of the last Monday in the month of November, 1923.

Since the resignation of the Rev. Burson, the laity and congregation of the society in reference have had several preachers here in "tryout" discourses. The church session has had a number of applications for the pastorate, and the church society has heard several divines of note, and there seems little doubt but that among the galaxy, a selection can be made that will be pleasing to the church laity and congregation concourse.

We are informed that it is the province of the church session to made recommendation in the premises, and that it will recommend a certain Pennsylvania pastor on whom it is thought the membership will unite and extend a call. If the gentleman to whom reference is made is decided upon at the meeting this evening with his family, he will remove here in the near future.

UNREQUITED LOVE CAUSES WOMAN TO TRY SUICIDE

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—(U. P.)—Marie Austin, 23, of Washington, D. C., who is alleged by police to have attempted suicide in a friend's apartment here Saturday night when she learned the man she came here to marry had changed his intentions, was discharged from Hahnemann Hospital today, completely recovered from the effects of poisoning.

The young woman, who is a government stenographer, came here Friday to attend a week-end party, according to the police. During the course of the party Saturday night, had decided it was for their mutual benefit that the marriage be abandoned and that he would not attend the party.

Becoming hysterical Miss Austin rushed into a bath room, locked the door and drank the contents of a bottle of poison. Her friends broke open the door and rushed the unconscious woman to the hospital.

Miss Austin refuses to reveal the identity of her fiance to detectives.

OWN YOUR HOME.

Impressed with the seriousness of the situation, and imbued with the desire to educate and help the people insofar as within their power may lie, the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring films, to be shown at the Coyle theatre this week, Thursday and Friday evenings, which will give folk the inside "track" of how they may own their own home, and thus further escape the thralldom of Charleroi is short of places to house the people, and the demand for homes is so insistent that the Chamber of Commerce membership, and particularly the heads of the organization, are deeply concerning themselves to devise ways and means to relieve the tense situation. If people will avail themselves of the unexcelled opportunity of witnessing the films, "The Great Idea," at the Coyle theatre Thursday and Friday nights, there is no question but that these films will prove so educational as to be advantageous to folk in their extremity, and possibly show them the way whereby they can in reality and in truth, soon be home owners, and not at the mercy of the landlord, the majority of whom "want to sell" and not to lease, their rented premises.

This film showing will be precedence, doubtless, to a campaign that will be inaugurated for relief in the house situation when the Borough Planning Commission becomes an active factor for borough weal. But it is well for people to know just what they can de independent of any home organization, however laudable be their endeavors in the rents situation as they now present themselves.

Apparently Secretary Daugherty remains quite calm. He is quoted as saying that "there is always certain amount of public conversation for publicity, political or other purposes." It would appear that he is disposed to rest content upon what he has himself described as "the wonderful achievements" of his own particular department. Just at present, however, the "public conversation" would seem to be caustic enough to get under any skin less thick than that of a rhinoceros.

THRILLS ON "THE MAIN STREET MESSENGER"

The life of the small-town reporter has many thrills. Eva Hunt Dockery of the Idaho Daily Statesman of Boise lists, as a few of the more dramatic, interviewing Paderewski through a knothole, being set upon bodily by an irate wife who mistook Mrs. Dockery for her husband's affinity, writing up the first motor trip to California while the dusty gentleman gave out details from a barber-shop bath house, and having the police called when she tried to get a picture of a murdered woman

The woman reporter in the smaller place, Mrs. Dockery says, gets a chance to interview notables when they come through the town. If she were on a big city daily these interviews would go to the star reporters and her own progress toward the most interesting feature of news writing would thus be delayed or curtailed. Among Mrs. Dockery's choicest possessions are notes from Schumann-Heinck Ida Tarbell and other notables. A silver dagger, specially inscribed, is a memento of what promised to be an impossible interview with Mme. Nordica, but which eventuated into such a friendship that the singer always sent for the writer when she reached Boise.

Originally a trained librarian, the secretary of the Idaho state free library commission once lost her position through a change of political color at the statehouse. Just then the Statesman was short a society editor, hunted her up and offered her the job.

"It was when I went to San Francisco and talked with the newspaper women there," Mrs. Dockery writes, "that I first realized my good fortune in receiving training on a small-town paper. Of course we consider ours the biggest little newspaper in the country. Anyway, the bright young newspaper girls I met claimed quite to envy me my varied experience covering police and Supreme courts, hotel interviews and celebrities—everything at one time or another except the legislature. Even in the matter of finances I believe the small-town newspaper woman has the best of the argument. While the pay is small, living expenses are cheaper and there is always a chance at sidelines such as writing ads for stores which cannot pay a regular ad writer, doing publicity for campaigns, etc."

A Brief for the Passage of The Soldiers' Adjusted Compensation Bill

By John Thomas Taylor, Vice Chairman, National Legislative Committee, The American Legion

To be published in six installments

Seven months later, February 17, 1922, when the Bill was before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, President Harding wrote a letter on the subject to Chairman Fordney of the Committee. This has been referred to as the "Sales tax" letter. Extracts from it are as follows:

"In accordance with the promise made to yourself and your associates on the Senate and House Committees, I have carefuly looked into the program of taxation which has been suggested. In addition thereto I have made inquiry into the feasibility of issuing either short-term Treasury Notes or long-time bonds to meet the financial obligations which the proposed legislation will impose. It is not possible to commend to you either of the plans

"It continues to be my best judgment that any compensation legislation enacted at this time ought to carry with it the provision for raising the needed revenues, and I find myself unable to suggest any commendable plan other than that of a general sales tax. Such a tax will distribute the cost of rewarding the ex-service men in such a manner that it will be borne by all the people whom they served and does not commit the government to class imposition of taxes.

"It is fully realized how great is the difficulty which confronts the congress in solving this difficult problem. I am aware of the strong sentiment in Congress in favor of this adjusted compensation. I have spoken approvingly myself, always with the reservation that the bestowal shall be made when it may be done without such injury to the country as will nullify the benefits to the ex-service men themselves with this expression of gratitude is designated to bestow.

We have no serious problem in beginning the allotments of public lands and the immediate issue of paid-up insurance. The real difficulty lies in the payment of the cash bonus."

Candidate Harding took the attitude that he wanted a "bonus bill" to pass the Senate but the American Legion didn't want it to pass 'when our war bonds were 15 to 20 below par."

Into his veto message President Harding failed to mention the fact that at that moment war bonds were above par, nor did he comment upon this as having any bearing on the case. But he did say:

"A reversal of the policy which exalted patriotic service in the past." this is one of the most unusual statements in President Harding's message.

D. G. Smith of Glassport, a conductor on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, sustained a broken shoulder and injuries to his back when he jumped from a moving engine and fell across a rail. Smith was removed in a light engine to the McKeesport hospital. The accident occurred when the train moving slowly was approaching a switch which Smith was to throw open. Ice had gathered on the steps leading to the engine cab and fearing he might fall Smith attempted to jump from the train. He alighted on the ground, but slipped, falling backward and striking his shoulder and back. The train crew assisted Smith into the engine cab and he was rushed to the hospital.

Pocket Chart Tests Blood by Color Match

Tests of the blood can be made by matching its color with those shown on a vest-pocket chart that has lately come into use among doctors. In making the experiment, the patient's finger is first pricked with a sterilized needle and a drop of the blood collected on a piece of white paper. The color is then compared with those on the scale of the instrument to determine the percentage of red corpuscles.

East-Bound Ships Lighter Than Those Going West

Scientific experiments to ascertain the possible effect of the direction in which a ship is going upon its weight-carrying capacity, recently made by a prominent scientist, resulted in his conclusion that a 2,000-ton vessel traveling east offers 400 pounds less resistance to the water current than it does when west-bound. This calculation, it is said, is based upon the influence of centrifugal force, which is greater when a body is riding with the tide in the direction in which the earth revolves, than when headed the other way

Safeguarding the Aerial

Frequently a single-wire aerial is strung between the house and a near-by tree, and the swinging of the tree in a storm often breaks the wire or pulls it out of the support at the other end. A good method of overcoming this trouble is to place an ordinary screen-door spring between the end of the aerial and the house. This will keep the wire taut and at the same time prevent its being broken easily. In some cases it may be desirable to have springs at both ends of the aerial.

Snow Scraper Attached to Rake

A serviceable snow scraper can readily be made by attaching a piece of galvanized iron to an ordinary garden rake, as shown in the drawing. The metal should be at least ¼ in. thick and should be cut to the dimensions given in the upper detail. Short cuts are made at the points indicated and the strips between these cuts bent out as shown in the lower drawing. The loops thus formed should be made so that the tines of the rake must be forced into them, thus preventing the scraper from falling off the rake. A scraper of this kind costs much less than a manufactured one, and, if properly made, serves the purpose just as well.

Water Supply for Private Garage

Rain water is ideal for use in automobile radiators, as it is free from most of the scale-forming chemicals and salts present in well and hydrant water. Two convenient methods of storing rain water in readiness for use are shown in the drawing. The upper figure shows how a half barrel may be arranged on a shelf inside the garage, at a height that will permit the water to flow into the radiator. A gutter is run along the edge of the roof and a small tap pipe from the gutter is brought through the wall as shown, so that the water will drain into the barrel. A short length of pipe, fitted with a valve, is fitted through the side near the bottom and a length of rubber hose is attached as shown. An overflow pipe is also provided. In garages where there is not enough space to permit the installation described above, a barrel may be mounted on a ... outside of the garage as shown in the lower figure. In both cases a fine sieve must be provided in the pipe leading from the gutter, to catch any foreign matter. The inside of the container should be washed out occasionally.

Drying Clothes in Cold Weather

During cold weather clothes hung out on the line to dry become stiff, due to the frozen moisture in them, and in attempting to remove them they are frequently torn at the corners. This danger can be eliminated by hanging the clothes on wire coat-hangers of the kind used extensively by cleaners. The clothes are hung on the hangers, which are hung on the line. To keep them separated evenly, a number of old yardsticks or laths are used, holes being drilled in them about 3 in. apart, and the hooks of the hangers passed through the holes before they are hung on the line. The clothes are brought in on the hangers and allowed to thaw out before taken off. This method also obviates the usual discomfort of cold hands.

YOUNG MAN DIES OF INJURIES IN COASTING

Harvey Henshall, aged 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henshall of California, who was badly injured in the coasting accident Tuesday evening, February 12, which occurred on Wood Street Hill, California, when the sled on which he was riding with four other young people crashed into an automobile, died Saturday night at 7:45 o'clock in the Brownsville General Hospital, where he was taken shortly after the accident.

The youth has been unconscious the greater part of the time since the accident, only rallying for a few minutes at intervals.

THE FRENCH FRANC GOES TO LOW RECORD

Paris, February 18.—(U. P.)—The French franc collapsed to a record low today, falling 23.20 to the dollar shortly before noon.

When the Bourse opened, amid scenes of tremendous excitement and activity in foreign exchange and securities the franc was with ten centimes of its previous low mark, of 23.05.

Within a few minutes, further decline was in evidence, and at 11:30, while traders struggled frantically into the corridors and on the steps of the bourse, the franc passed its record low and went to 23.07. The pound was at 95.50.

UNCLE SAM'S MAIL HELD UP ACCOUNT OF BRITISH STRIKE

Plymouth, Eng., Feb. 18.—(United Press).—Five thousand bags of American mail were held up here today because of the National Dock Workers' strike.

Two thousand bags were landed from liners which arrived from the United States over the week-end, but the striking dock workers refused to move them.

The paralyzing effect of the strike, which started at noon Saturday, after final negotiations between union leaders and employers to reach a compromise on the men's demand for a two shilling-a-day increase failed, became apparent today.

Already there is serious shortage of meat in the country. Meat porters, in sympathy with the dock workers who are holding up the unloading of beef ships by their strike, refused to handle cold storage stocks.

"BROWNIE" DEAD— PASSES PORTALS TO "DOG HEAVEN"

The many friends of "Brownie" will regret to learn of his death. He was a dog, but an animal impregnated with sympathies wellnigh human, and a disposition that was endearing, and the memory of which will be enduring.

He spent Wednesday night at the home of Harold Smith and Thursday morning Mr. Smith noticed that the dog was ill; from this time he gradually grew weaker until his passing at 10:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

His many admirers will have comfort in the knowledge that everything was done for him that could be done for a dog, and almost continuous watch was kept over him until his death.

"Brownie" first came into this locality about two years ago. He made friends very rapidly until at the time of his death every school child and almost every adult knew him.

One year ago through delinquency in payment of his license a price of $15 was placed on his head. This amount was subscribed in a few minutes by his many admirers, but upon proper explanation to the state officials, they refused to take the fine and settled the matter with the payment of the license fee.

"Brownie" was everybody's friend. As a dog, his devotion to humanity, his faith in human nature, his confidence and trust—these attributes of character will be remembered and treasured even if he was "only a dog."

STATE MAKES LOTS OF CEMENT

Harrisburg, Feb. 18.—(United Press)—Nearly one-third of all the cement manufactured in this country comes from Pennsylvania.

The output in this state per year is 33,000,000 barrels and the State Gelogical Survey has figures to show that if these barrels were three feet long they would, if laid on the ground end to end, make a line 17,750 miles long.

Inasmuch as Portland cement is shipped in sacks, it is pointed out, with each sack two feet long, and four sacks to a barrel, the output of this state last year would if laid out in a single line of sacks extend twice around the world.

The idea for this discussion, appearing this week in the Department of Forests and Waters bulletin, is the anniversary this year of the discovery of Portland cement 100 years ago by an English bricklayer named Joseph Aspdin.

Fifty years later the industry received its start in this country. The records show that it was at Copley, Pennsylvania, in 1872 that David O. Saylor established a plant for the manufacture of Portland cement, the first in this country so that is how Pennsylvania got such a lead on other states in the manufacture of this important building material.

And Lehigh county thus got the start that made it the leader in production today over other counties of the state.

JACK AND TOMMY TO MEET MAY 30

New York, Feb. 16.—(U. P.)—Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, principals in the "bust of Shelby" are to meet again at the Polo Grounds on Saturday, May 31.

This a guess, arrived at by the well known process of putting "two and two together."

It is certain they are going to fight again for the championship early in June Tex Rickard said so Saturday night in an exclusive story to the United Press.

He was unwilling for the present, he said, to name the exact date or place

Rickard has an established preference for dates near a holiday. Memorial day comes on Friday this year and in greater New York it is the custom of commercial and professional firms to declare the week end off when a national holiday falls on Friday.

The Yankees are at home on Memorial Day and the Giants are away. This leaves the Polo Grounds idle and Rickard has an arrangement with the owners of the Giants for the use of their ball park.

Infield and outfield seats belong to the property of the ball park and the installation of the seats would require only a trivial expense.

COURT ACTION DUE WITHIN 48 HOURS

Washington, Feb. 18. — (United Press).—Court action in the Teapot Dome oil scandal is due within 48 hours.

If the Senate today confirms Owen J. Roberts, Philadelphia, the Republican member of the President's special counsel to prosecute the oil cases, nothing will then stand in the way of an immediate application for an injunction to stop Harry Sinclair and E. L. Doheny from withdrawing more oil from the government oil reserves.

That will be the first step in the court fight to get back the oil leases and to punish any guilty of fraud or corruption in connection with the leasing.

The Teapot Dome committee, meanwhile, may meet this afternoon for brief consideration of new evidence handed to committee members yesterday, and to order more subpoenas. Further hearings have been postponed until February 25.

Confirmation of Roberts by the Senate was believed by administration leaders to be certain, though after considerable criticism from Senator La Follette and others.

Atlee Pomerene, Ohio, who was confirmed Saturday night by the Senate, said today that as soon as Roberts is confirmed a statement will be issued, outlining procedure counsel will follow.

Pomerene indicated this will consist:

First, of the injunction suit to stop further pumping of oil from the reserves and application for receivers to take care of the interests of the government and the lessees until the cases are finally decided.

Second, suits to abrogate the cases, and, finally:

Convening of a federal grand jury to return indictments against any deemed guilty of criminal acts in connection with the leasing.

Immediately after Roberts is confirmed, the Senate is to dispose of the resolution appropriating $100,000 for court action. This already has passed the House and its adoption by the Senate will provide funds for employment of assistants by Pomerene and Roberts.

With these steps taken, the Teapot Dome scandal will definitely pass from the realm of investigation into that of action. At the same time, however, the committee will keep close contact with the special counsel, and new developments when the inquiry is resumed will be instantly communicated to the lawyers for such action as may be proper.

Additional counsel may be selected by the Senate. Senator Pittman, member of the investigating committee, believes that Roberts and Pomerene ought to have some capable assistance. He wants to propose that a call be issued for volunteers to aid in the prosecutions. He believes some of the nation's greatest legal authorities might offer their assistance.

QUESTION OF DRY AGENTS CARRYING GUNS

Washington, Feb 18—(U. P.)—President Coolidge has taken personal charge of an investigation of the prohibition enforcement situation in Washington, as result of shooting of Senator Greene, Vermont, by a stray bullet fired in a battle between dry agents and bootleggers.

Mr. Coolidge has taken these steps: Called for reports from Washington police, concerning the shooting

Taken up with Majority Leader Longsworth of the House the question of legislation preventing prohibition agents carrying fire arms in the district of Columbia.

The president sent his secretary, C. Bascom Slemp, to emergency hospital to get from Mr. Greene the circumstances of the shooting.

Greene upon whom an operation for removal of bone splinter was performed Saturday evening, was reported today to be in a serious condition. His physicians said the danger of infection of the wound in his head still exists, and that they cannot pronounce him out of danger on that account.

Later the president conferred with Longworth and some action in congress is likely to follow. The president also told Commissioner Cyster, in charge of Washington police, and Prohibition Commissioner Hayne's officer, those responsible for the shooting must be punished.
